A mixture of Deadwood,

the contents of a

The envoking of souls
to pocess people or
beings is not normally done. Not only is the
spell time consumeing
and costly, it also can,
if it is reversed,
excact a deadly told on
the casters own soul
and mind. There was once a case of a man

who once he envoked
 the soul, the soul not only took his intended
 persons body but
 enslaved the casters
 own soul to do his bidding. Also since it is possible to be
 reversed the envoker
 can be pocessed by the
 envoked soul forever
 giving the person two personalities. The other readings I read
 on another case, the
 woman that envoked
 seemed as two
 differant persons
 after envokeing the soul of Satan into her new
 This evilest of souls
 was excorsized by a
 powerful Priest.
 As per the writeings
 he pocessed her body and mind. Tho the Priest tried to
 banish the Evil
 soul back to Hell.
 The curse held fast
 and stronger then
 anyone could have imagined. She now resides deep in a
 prision, locked away
 from all of man kind.
 Her mind twisted to evil forever. Tho I
 spell I dare to reveal
 the spell, or more
 presicely what I
 could read of the torn,
 tattered and worn
 document...

The rest of the document was burned
to badly to read any more. Some sections
were totally gone from
the pages of the document and others
totally blackened by
the fire. It was said that the woman who
last used this spell
had tried to destroy it in hopes that it would release her from her
curse. Alas it seemed that is not destroyed.
The only persons that
know the words are
the priest and woman.
